

Hebrew pack-peddlers aren't quite as plenty in Bath as they used to be, but they can be as troublesome, and one vented his spite on a Bath woman a few days ago by slamming the front door with such force as to break the glass when she refused to purchase any of his wares. The police were notified and Marshal McFadden and Officer Osgood soon had the man and obtained a settlement from him for his damage.