

The second annual minstrel show by the young Jewish people of the community will be presented Thursday night, January 10, in the vestry of Beth Israel synagogue. The show, reported to be bigger and better than last year's presentation, will feature the latest in songs and jokes. New faces will be seen in the show and the various acts of last year's favorites and the newcomers will provide an entertaining evening. Tickets may be purchased from any member of the cast, at the Postal Telegraph office and at the Center street Meat Market.
