Dedication and Director's Message

This year book is dedicated to "your grandchildren".

My grandfather wrote in the Twenty-fifth Reunion Yearbook, "Fox Lodge was aglow with the light as the campers read, played board games, and planned the next day's ball games and canoe trip".

Was Fox Lodge still aglow in the summer of 1990 with those same simple and joyous pleasures? Are those not the same traditional joys that we share with generations who have come before us?

It is said that the average third grader is in school for 900 hours a year, and watches TV for 1,100 hours. Perhaps they know not how to make something out of a very little. They are not resourceful, and independent such as you have learned to be here. How can they "leave their camp site in a better condition than they found it", if they have not learned to play and work with the simplest of pleasures?

Yes, this yearbook is dedicated to your Grandchildren. May they inherit the same strengths, skills, sense of independence, dedication to purpose, the ability to sacrifice to gain, and the joy of not always doing it the easy or convenient way, that their grandfathers learned as boys. The quality of character that has been passed down to them by those who have kept the Kennebec spirit alive.

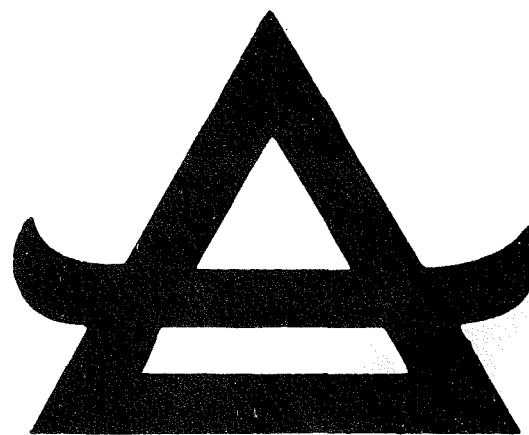

It is because of those treasured qualities that have been in every Kennebecer since 1907, that have made the boys who have graduated from Kennebec men for all seasons and unique leaders.

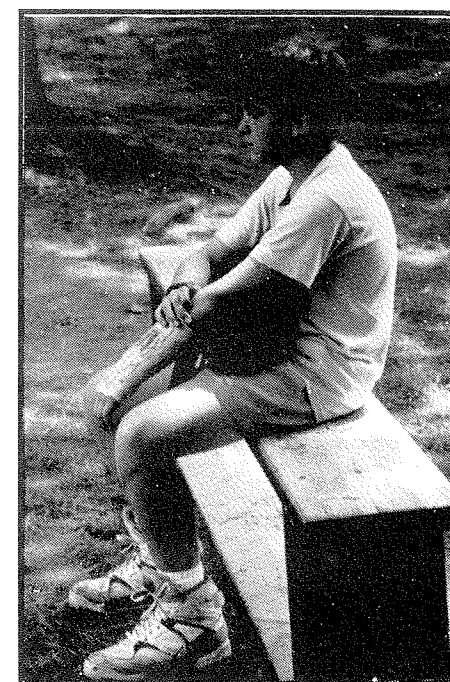

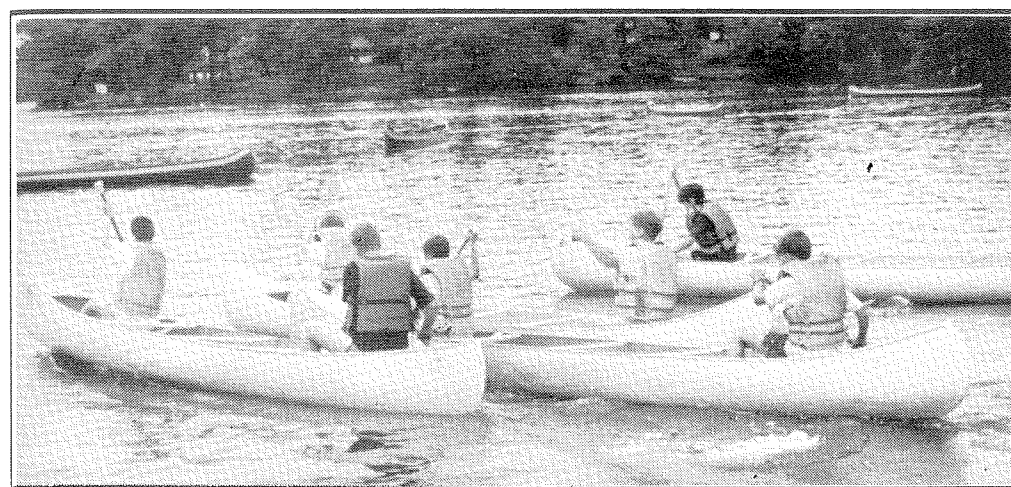

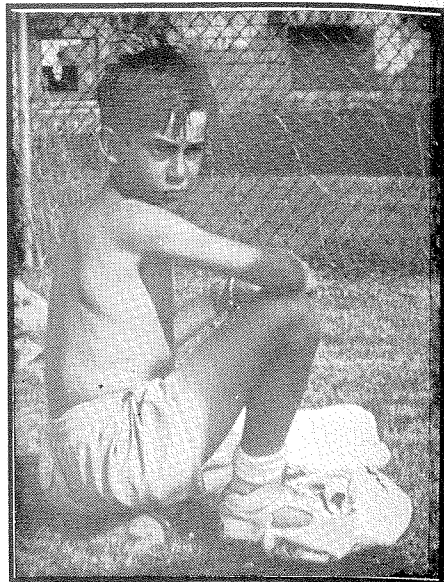

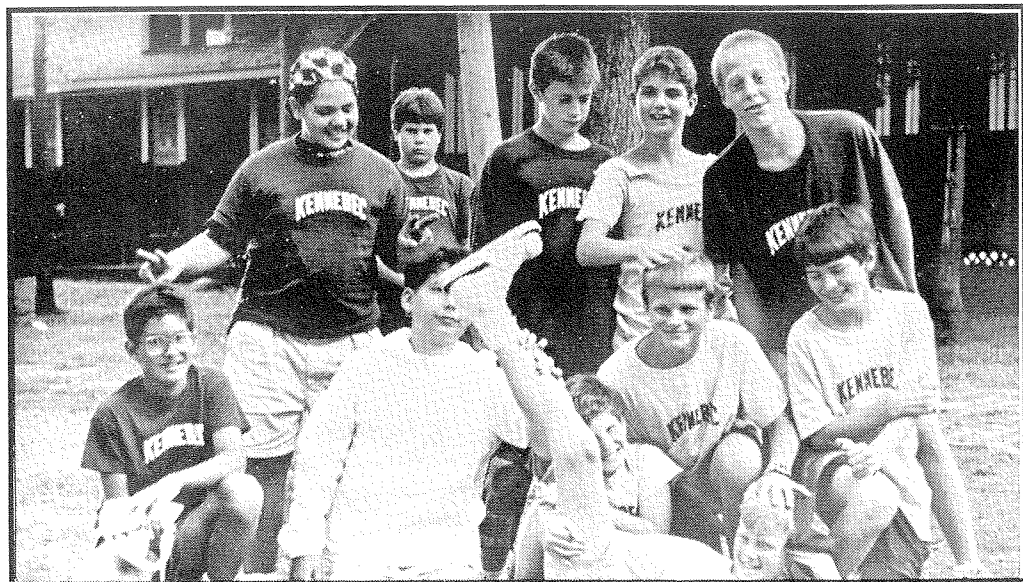

As the world needs more and more of what they are getting less and less of, Kennebec is an Oasis for those who want to not forget the Lost Art of Living, simply and completely, with respect for all living things. Here's To your Grandchildren! May they be grateful for what you have done to become who you are.

VALEDICTORY 1990

As we, The First of 1990, stare into Salmon Lake, we see a new ripple. The Waves have turned over a new camp, for better or worse, we still cannot judge. But one thing that has remained constant is the pillars on which this camp was founded comradery and competition, and the strong sense of belonging which have drawn all of us back as well as past First Sectioners.

The changes we have experienced in life could not have been made without Kennebec, for it would be impossible to state that Kennebec had no influence upon any of us. The long, sometimes seemingly infinite climb to the top is about to come to a simple end.

Our family is being split apart, but our spirits will stay with Kennebec, and that odd force that all Kennebecers feel will someday draw us back.

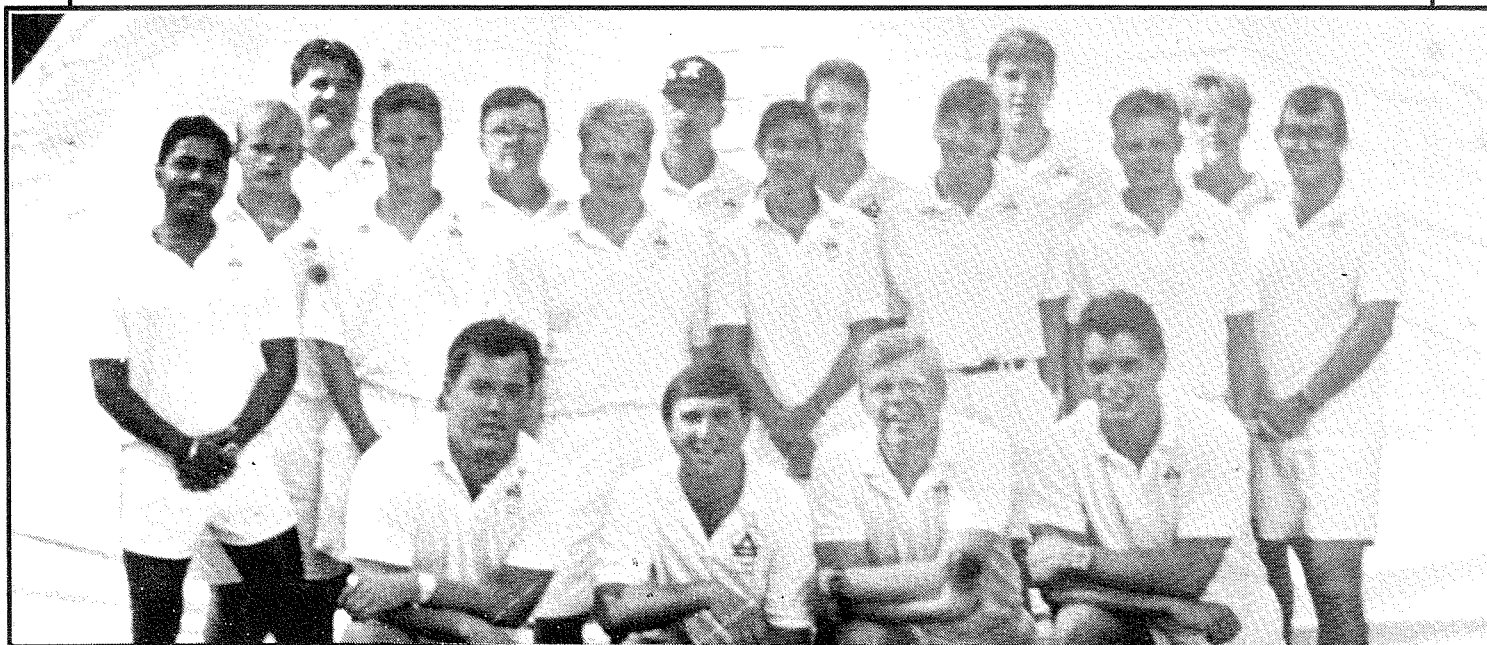

So in retrospect, the ripples from the waters we sometimes feel are not always positive, but Kennebec is our child and our parent and we must expect both. Finally in the words of a past Kennebecer, Uncle Lou Fleischer, "If you have not lived the life of a Kennebecer, you have not lived."

The First Section of 1990
James M. Jellinek
