

You know you're a Wekeela person when ...

- Your favorite numbers are 04220.
- Being at home makes you camp sick.
- Your favorite time of day is Wekeela Hour.
- You know when the nurse is available for "non-emergencies."
- Your tan lines are also your dirt lines ... and you have a competition with your friends to see whose are the darkest.
- You know what the "Malman jar of wishes" are.
- You can choose to have a short, hot shower, or a cold, long shower. But you know those showers are more fun.
- You can walk the woodsy path to the Condos at night without a flashlight.
- You've made friends with the office staff so that you can be in the air conditioning.
- You have a camp set of clothes; they are all green and white.
- You have a collection of outfits for 80's night, Statues, Gladiator, Halloween, College Weekend, and Lip Sync.
- Your idea of a good song starts with these words "this is a repeat after me song ..."
- You save anything and everything that reminds you of Camp.
- You've written a paper about Wekeela for a class.
- Most of your stories start with "and then there was this time at Camp ..."
- You think non-Camp people don't understand you.
- Your primary method of diplomatic resolution is rock, paper, scissors.
- You know upon entering the Dining Hall to go directly to your table and stand in silence.
- You refer to the other people in your bunk as your brothers or sisters.
- You know all of the verses of "Baby Shark."
- You have multiple camp play lists.
- You know the proper responses to the following words: "announcement," "Big Top," "nomination," "bits", "info" and do whatever you can to avoid using them in discussion.
- You have never felt closer to your friends than after spending four days apart from them.
- You can't leave your Wekeela Hour activities early, so you run as fast as you can to get back to the cabin afterwards in order to get the first shower.
- You know exactly how long it takes you to walk to the Council Ring in order to get to Line Up on time.
- Screaming and running at the same time are a coveted skill.
- You have ever tried to dance inside a moving vehicle.
- You get excited when you realize the Color War shields are missing.
- You know which flavor of Bug Juice is your favorite.
- You have seen people do all of the following: eat strawberries and cream and then speak in a British accent, whistle after downing saltines, and throw marshmallows over their shoulder so other people can catch them in their mouths.
- You know to take your cap off in the Dining Hall as well as when we raise and lower the flag.
- You know what to do when you hear "Candyman" over the loudspeaker.
- You don't get mad when your counselors takes away flashlight time because you've perfected the art of communication after lights out.
- You know when to stand during "Puff the Magic Dragon" and when to slide your hands during "Leaving on a Jet-plane."
- You cannot wait to get your Legacy.
- You know what to do to get a Chef Parade.
- You know what "longs and longs" are.
- You know "Reveille" doesn't play on Wekeela Days.
- You can sing "Colors" and "Retreat."
- You know which direction the smoke blows during Campfire and where the bugs congregate at night.
- You know who Stuey is and which Weyou-Wega step to not stand on.
- You've been to the top of Bear Mountain.
- You know what "around the rock" means.
- You know all the verses of Boom-Chica-Boom.
- You know a slip 'n slide isn't just a piece of yellow plastic.
- You know how to pronounce "Sioux."
- You know what the Village is, even though there are two villages.
- You could lead the First Night Talk if your counselors let you.
- You know the most meaningful jacket to have is your 5-year jacket!
- You know the only jacket more special than your 5-year jacket is your 10-year fleece.
- You always want to know "who's it gonna be?"
- You know the appropriate cheers for your division.
- You know the most efficient methods for clearing and cleaning your table.
- You always try to be the first person at your table to get The Wigwam.
- You commit the entire history of the Camp to memory in case it is used College Weekend Wekeela Bowl.
- You can never listen to certain songs because they will always make you cry.