The Maine Jewish Museum began exhibiting Jewish Artists with a Maine connection in 2013. For the past seven years we have provided to our community over 80 exhibitions. We began with one exhibition every three months and now we provide three exhibitions every two months. As the Museum remains closed during this time of social distancing, we would like to share some memories of the wonderful exhibitions.

We have chosen 3 exhibits from each year to highlight and jog your memory during these stay at home times.

Enjoy!

Nancy Davidson, Curator In Residence

Nanci Kahn, Curator of Photography

Please enjoy this sampling from our 2014 Exhibitions

Lin Lisberger

"...the spaces we occupy and move through affect our sense of shape and protective quality of our very immediate environment...one reason why several of the sculptures are made with wood from the Eastern Promenade in my neighborhood in Portland, Maine."

Bonnie Spiegel

"I am bewitched by my adopted state's natural beauty. I love the way the water in the marshes, rivers, and lakes peek out like blue jewels from between the thick masses of green foliage."

Vic Goldsmith

"Think of Jazz. Structure, vocabulary, and rhythm that together form a framework within which improvisation, surprise and flights of fancy will occur. I think of my sculpture similarly. The resultant is musical and intuitive."
